Move CPTS 489 to Afternoon in Winter!

The image you see to the right represents our teacher absolutely chilling from the extreme cold weather out there! please sight this patition at the bottom to support our move to an Afternoon class schedule. The image you see on the right is a representation of our professor every morning, right before his much-needed coffee that helps thaw him out a bit. Imagine having to wake up at 4 or 5 AM in the dead of winter just to prepare for class. Technically, since the sun hasn't even risen yet, can we really call 4 AM "morning"? The frigid cold, combined with the mental fog of early hours, is an unfair battle both for students and faculty alike. No one should have to endure sub-zero temperatures just to attend an 8 AM lecture. Morning brain freeze inevitably leads to null pointer exceptions in our heads! For these reasons, we humbly request the administration to consider shifting CPTS 489 to a more humane

Fill out Form!

First Name:

first name

Last Name:

last name

Gender:

--select--

Age:

age

Favorite Programming language:

--select--

Integrated Development Environment:

--select--

Most frequently used Frameworks/Libraries

--select--

Version Control

--select--

Submit survey

First Name	Last Name	Gender	Age	IDE	Favorite Programming language	Most Frequent Libraries	Version Control
bill	Roger		23		Python
sarah	linnay		22		Python		